Notes to the interim financial statements

As at and for the six months ended September 30, 2022 and 2021

(Unaudited - Expressed in Canadian Dollars)

1. Nature and continuance of operations

Bedford Metals Corp. (formerly Academy Metals Inc.) (“Bedford” or the “Company”) is in the business of acquiring, exploring and developing mineral exploration properties. The Company is currently in the exploration stage of developing its exploration and evaluation assets and has not yet determined whether the properties contain mineral reserves that are economically recoverable. On October 26, 2022, the Company changed its name to Bedford Metals Corp. and its stock symbol to “BFM”. Its shares are listed on the TSX Venture Exchange (“TSX-V”). On June 24, 2021, the Company completed a share consolidation at a ratio of one new, post-consolidated share, for every ten old, pre-consolidated shares. All share amounts in these financial statements are reflected on a post-consolidated basis.

The Company’s head office, principal address and registered and records office is 313 – 515 West Pender Street, Vancouver, B.C., V6B 6H5.

These interim financial statements have been prepared on the assumption that the Company will continue as a going concern, meaning it will continue in operation for the foreseeable future and will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the ordinary course of operations. Different bases of measurement may be appropriate if the Company is not expected to continue operations for the foreseeable future. As at September 30, 2022, the Company had not advanced its exploration and evaluation assets to commercial production and is not able to finance day to day activities through operations. The Company has incurred operating losses since inception and at September 30, 2022, had a cumulative deficit of $12,164,152. These uncertainties cast significant doubt about the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern.

The Company’s continuation as a going concern is dependent upon the successful results from its mineral property exploration activities and its ability to attain profitable operations and generate funds there from and/or raise equity capital or borrowings sufficient to meet current and future obligations. Management intends to finance operating costs over the next twelve months from proceeds of private placements of its common shares.

These interim financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue in existence.

The outbreak of the Coronavirus Disease 2019, or COVID-19, has spread across the globe and is impacting worldwide economic activity. This global pandemic poses the risk that the Company or its clients, employees, contractors, suppliers, and other partners may be unable to conduct regular business activities for an indefinite period of time. At this point, the impact on the Company has been minimal. The Company continues to monitor the situation and is taking all necessary precautions in order to follow rules and best practices as set out by the federal and provincial governments.

These financial statements were authorized for issue on November 29, 2022 by the directors of the Company.

2. Basis of presentation

These interim financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) applicable to the preparation of interim financial statements, including International Accounting Standards (“IAS”) 34, Interim Financial Reporting. These consolidated interim financial statements do not include all of the information required for full annual financial statements and should be read in conjunction with the Company’s audited annual financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022, which have been prepared in accordance with IFRS.

These interim financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis, except for financial instruments. In addition, these financial statements have been prepared using the accrual basis of accounting except for cash flow information. The presentation and functional currency of the Company is the Canadian dollar.

BEDFORD METALS CORP. (FORMERLY ACADEMY METALS INC.)Notes to the interim financial statements*As at and for the six months ended September 30, 2022 and 2021*(Unaudited - Expressed in Canadian Dollars)*3. Significant accounting policiesCritical accounting judgments and key sources of estimation uncertainty

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with IFRS requires the Company to make estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The Company's management reviews these estimates and underlying assumptions on an ongoing basis, based on experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Revisions to estimates are adjusted for prospectively in the period in which the estimates are revised.

Critical judgments in applying accounting policies:

The following are critical judgments that management has made in the process of applying accounting policies and that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the interim financial statements:

- the determination that the Company will continue as a going concern for the next year.
- the determination that there have been no events or changes in circumstances that indicate the carrying amount of exploration and evaluation assets may not be recoverable.

Accounting standards, interpretations and amendments issued but not yet effective

The Company has performed an assessment of new standards issued by the IASB that are not yet effective. The Company has assessed that the impact of adopting these accounting standards on its financial statements would not be significant.

8. Related party transactions

Parties are considered to be related if one party has the ability, directly or indirectly, to control the other party or exercise significant influence over the other party in making financial and operating decisions. Related parties may be individuals or corporate entities. Related party transactions have been measured at the exchange amount of consideration agreed between the related parties. Related party transactions not disclosed elsewhere in these financial statements are listed below.

During the six months ended September 30, 2022 (and 2021), the Company:

- a) Incurred consulting fees of $500 (2021 - $3,000) to directors of the Company.
- b) Incurred geological consulting fees of $Nil (2021 - $9,000) to a company controlled by the CEO of the Company.

	Six Months Ended
	September 30, 2022	September 30, 2021
Management and consulting fees	$ 500	$ 13,800
Total	$ 500	$ 13,800

9. Capital management

The Company manages its capital structure, consisting of working and share capital, and makes adjustments to it depending on the funds available to the Company for acquisition, exploration and development of exploration and evaluation assets. The Board of Directors does not establish quantitative return on capital criteria for management, but rather relies on the expertise of the Company's management to sustain future development of the business.

The exploration and evaluation assets in which the Company currently has interests are in the exploration stage. As such, the Company is dependent on external financing to fund its activities. In order to carry out its planned exploration and pay for on-going general and administrative expenses, the Company will use existing working capital and expects to raise additional amounts through related parties or private placements as needed. The Company will continue to assess new exploration and evaluation assets and seeks to acquire additional interests if sufficient geologic or economic potential is established and adequate financial resources are available.

Management reviews its capital management approach on an on-going basis and believes that this approach, given the small size of the Company, is reasonable. The Company is not subject to externally imposed capital requirements and there were no significant changes in its approach to capital management during the six months ended September 30, 2022.

10. Financial instruments and risk management

Financial instruments

Fair value

As at September 30, 2022, the Company's financial instruments consisted of cash, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, and notes payable. The fair values of cash, accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate their carrying values. Notes payable requires assessing the appropriate market interest rates on the liabilities. The fair value of the notes payable approximates their carrying value as the note payable agreements were entered close to the year end with non-arms' length parties.

Financial instruments measured at fair value are classified into one of three levels in the fair value hierarchy according to the relative reliability of the inputs used to estimate the fair values. The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are:

Level 1: Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices which are observable for the asset or liability either directly or indirectly;

Level 3: Inputs that are not based on observable market data

Risk management

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will fail to discharge an obligation and cause the other party to incur a financial loss. The Company's primary exposure to credit risk is on its cash held in bank accounts. The majority of cash is deposited in bank accounts held with one major bank in Canada so there is a concentration of credit risk. This risk is managed by using a major bank that is a high credit quality financial institution as determined by rating agencies. The Company's secondary exposure to risk on its GST receivable is minimal since it is recoverable from the Canadian government.

Foreign currency risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because they are denominated in currencies that differ from the Company's functional currency. The Company only operates in Canada and is therefore not exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from transactions denominated in a foreign currency.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flow of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rate. The Company's exposure to interest rate risk relates to its ability to incur interest expense on loan payable balances at fixed rates. The risk is minimal.

Liquidity risk

To manage liquidity risk, the Company plans to hold cash sufficient to meet its financial obligations as they fall due. The ability to do this relies on the Company raising equity financing in a timely manner and by maintaining sufficient cash in excess of anticipated needs. As at September 30, 2022, the Company has a working capital deficiency of $48,362 and requires additional cash to fund operating and exploration activities. Liquidity risk is assessed as high.

11. Subsequent event

On October 26, 2022, the Company changed its name to Bedford Metals Corp. and its stock symbol to "BFM". Its shares are listed on the TSX Venture Exchange ("TSX-V").
